Tweet File .

The tweet file should be a Microsoft Office Excel sheet. Only 1997-2003 Excel worksheet is accepted. In simple terms, the excel sheet should have XLS extension and not XLSX extension. A sample excel sheet is provided with the download for the reference.

The tweets should be entered in the first column of the first sheet of the excel file. You can enter as many tweets as you want. Remember , the tweets should not exceed 140 characters as specified by twitter.

Random delay

The random delay is used to mimic human behaviour for the autotweets. There is a minimum and maximum range. For each autotweets a random minute will be chosen between the specified range. A minimum of 1 and a maximum of 5 minutes is recommended.

Repeat tweets

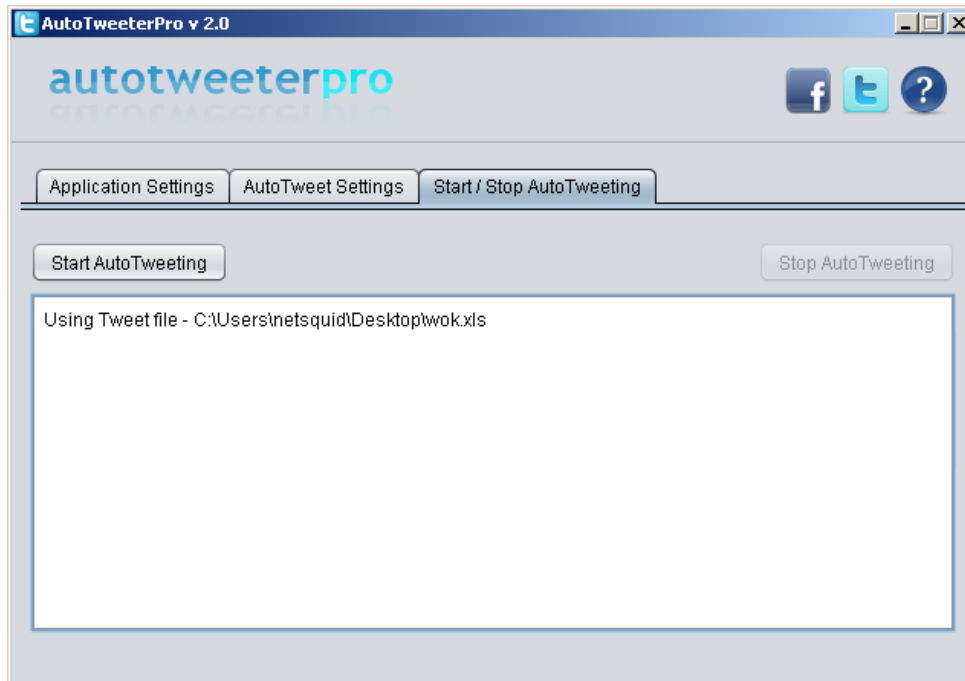

The AutoTweeter will repeat the full cycle of the tweets once it has finished tweeting one round. Ticking this option will make AutoTweeter tweet unlimitedly 24x7. Make sure you have a lot of tweets when you repeat tweets, twitter will reject the tweets if you tweet the same tweets within a short span of time. So you should either increase the random delay or you should have tweets of atleast 50 in order for this option to be effective.

Note : This option is not available in trial version.
